Aveti In This Issue

Namaskar ! In the midst of intensifying heat waves, Aveti has come up with yet another issue of Aveti Pulse. In this issue, readers will get to know about 'Chetana-Aveti Centre', the new learning centre project in Sonepur district of Odisha. This edition also covers the special story of ATSE-22' and the inspiring story of wonder boy Tikeswar.

Chetana : New Initiatives At Sonepur

More than 30 learning centres are planned to be set up in the near future

COVER STORY

Here is Chetana-Aveti Learning Centre. Established in Sonepur, the learning centre is an noble initiative of Aveti Learning. Chetana Centres are established and run by the worthy sons of Mr. Kapileswar Prasad Mohapatra, a well-known social worker, teacher and author from Lehedhi village of Sonepur district. Mr. Kapileswar, who focuses on social work and human welfare, started the Chetana Charitable Trust, back in 1998. Through this charitable trust, an old-age home was set up at Lehedhi village, followed by a multispecialty hospital. Kapileswar, however, was of the opinion that the only way to improve human life was to improve the state of education and health. Eldest son of Kapileswar, Mr. Sabyasachi Mohapatra, who is the director of Internationally acclaimed film 'Salabudha', and his brothers – Sushant, Mantu and Chintu – have come together to make their father's dream come true. Chetna Charitable Trust reached out to Aveti Learning, to provide the children of Lehedhi village with a new style of modern education and to improve their technical skills.

After a formal agreement between the two institutions, on February 21, 2022, Aveti Smart Class began smoothly in the village of Lehedhi. Now, Aveti Smart Classes have been set up at two Chetana Learning centres; one is at Lehedhi and the newest one is at Bidurpali. There are 36 students studying at the center in Lehedhi village and 56 students at Bidurpali centre. Established teachers have also been hired to explain all the details. In addition to these two Chetana centres, work is underway to set up another smart class in Ghamadiapali village. Not only are high-quality videos and assessments being practised, but also every small child's doubts are being addressed in Chetana-Aveti centres. A local young man, Mr Subham Panigrahi, was appointed at Lehedhi centre to look after the program's smooth functioning. More than 30 learning centres are planned to be set up in the near future by Aveti Learning, in partnership with the Chetna Trust. We hope for the best.

ATSE 2022 : Aveti's Unique Talent Hunt Program

4000 students from more than 20 schools participated in the examination

ATSE - Aveti Talent Search Examination-2022 ! Aveti Learning's Unique Talent Search Program. In this competitive world, putting the best talent on the first row is a must. The best example of this was the 'Aveti Talent Search Examination-2022', which began on March 6 and ended on April 1. ATSE-2022 is a high school-level scholarship examination that is further classified into two phases. The first phase (Stage-1) exams began on March 7, with more than 4,000 students from eighth, ninth and tenth grades taking part. As per rule, three students from three classes (Grade-8, 9, 10) of one school were selected, and thus a total of 9 students from one school were selected to sit on the next phase of examination. A total of 153 meritorious students were thus chosen to the second stage of the ATSE (Stage-2) examination.

Other distinguished guests included Mr. Pratap Das, Founder of i-Brain, Mr. Biswajit Samantaray, Senior Professor, CET, Mr. Jitu Mishra, Founder of SAARNA Educational and Cultural Services LLC, and Mr. Shibabrata Choudhury, Co-Founder of Aveti Learning. The program was attended by IASF Chairman Mr. Kamal Panda, who attended the event in a virtual way from the United States and addressed the students and parents present. Addressing the students, Mr. Kamal said, "The first requirement for studying is not money, but a strong will !". Mr. Biswajit Nayak, Founder of Aveti Learning, thanked the Chief Guest, the Honorary Chairman of IASF and other distinguished guests.

The institution that is to be thanked for the tremendous voluntary assistance and grant that came for the purpose of this examination, is the Indo-American Sevaks Foundation (IASF). IASF was the main sponsor of ATSE-2022. Thanks to the IASF grant, the Aveti Learning App has reached 153 meritorious students today. This means that 153 students have been able to get the Aveti Learning App free of charge, which includes video clips, practice questionnaires, and memorabilia that can connect textbooks to visuals and more. Dr. Bidhu Kalyan Mohanti, Director General of Cancer Department, KIMS Medical College, was the chief guest at the 'Utkal Utsav' organized by Aveti Learning on April 1. Prof. D.V. Raman joined as the keynote speaker. .

Think Like Winners, Think Like Avetians !

In this year's Aveti Utkal Utsav, three dedicated students of Aveti Learning have been declared eligible for the 'Aveti Achievers' Award'. Here is what the overwhelmed students say about their experience with Aveti....

Swara Somya Das

“ Before the pandemic I was not really interested in online studying and I thought it was full of distractions and a waste of time as people say. Well, later on, that thought of mine changed as I joined Aveti Learning ”

Aveti focuses not only on studies but also on extra-curricular activities. I feel lucky to be a part of this noble institution. Aveti is my family. ”

Abhijit Sethi

Smaranika Mahapatra

“ Aveti supported me a lot to concentrate on my studies. My aim in life is to become an honest IAS officer and make my parents proud. ”

"Continuity is the key to success" : Tikeswar

an awe-inspiring story of Tikeswar and his family

CORNER

Meet Tikeswar, an uncommonly talented student from Sambalpur ! Tikeswar Bag, the second child of Karunakar Bag, a resident of Rengali village in Sambalpur, is a very gifted student. Tikeswar, whose father is a sharecropper, goes to school every day, pedalling his old bicycle. The money that comes from farming is spent on food. In addition, Tikeswar's father has to pay for Tikeswar and his elder sister's education. The outbreak of COVID-19 was proved out to be the biggest stumbling block for the family. And for Tikeswar it was a curse, who relied on school and tuition to complete the class-9 syllabus. The sudden announcement of school closures and the postponement or cancellation of exams was a matter of concern for students like Tikeswar.

Aveti Learning extended a helping hand to Tikeswar. Nowadays, Tikeswar gets up early in the morning and completes his daily target on Aveti Learning App by watching the topic-oriented videos and doing the assessment units. Tikeswar says it is very easy to study and understand the concepts in this App. His favourite subject is mathematics and with the help of the Aveti Learning App, he can now practice more and more questions. When asked about Aveti learning, Tikeswar said that he can solve most of the difficult problems from book within a few minutes and Aveti Learning is to be thanked for this improvement. Tikeswar has proved that money is never a barrier to education, in fact, through hard work and high morale great success can be achieved. We wish Tikeswar all the very best for his bright future.
